

סכנה גדולה להיות מפרסם ולהנהיג העולם. לא

The Danger of Fame and Leadership

THE TEACHING

A very short teaching: it is a great danger to be well known (מפרסם) and to lead the world (להנהיג העולם).

Not only for one who is unfit, who wears “טלית שאינו שלו”, “a tallis that is not his”, but even for true servants of Hashem, the great ones of the generation (גדולי הדור): awesome dangers rest on them in leading the world.

MAIN POINTS

- An ordinary person (איש פשוט), even one who is not so pious, is very far from the gravest sins, such as bloodshed: he has no desire for them.
- Even if such a desire came, it would not come to his hand; many obstacles would stand in his way. And if he did stumble, it would be rare, perhaps once in his whole life.
- But in leading the world, and in the new Torah insights one originates (חדושין דאורייתא), one can actually stumble in “גנב ונאף ורצח”, theft, immorality and bloodshed, every time, at every moment. May Hashem protect us (רחמנא לצלן).

A PRACTICAL TAKEAWAY · OUR OWN REFLECTION

Wherever we have influence, at home, among friends, in what we teach, our words carry weight. Use influence with fear of Heaven and humility, and don't run after fame.
